University Skiers Workout At Big Mountain Ski Run; Competitive Meets Planned

Montana University skiers, still seeking university sanction, arrived in Missoula late Sunday after participating in the fifth annual skiers holiday at Big Mountain near Whitefish.

Over 60 university skiers, with coach Jim Faurot, made the trip last Friday. Mostly a trip to further season his young but energetic squad, Faurot took the opportunity at Big Mountain to hold further workouts for his university ski team. Back on campus, Faurot said there will be no individual strong in the University ski machine this year. He said, "the important thing is that there be a steady consistent performance that will help the team score. There are no outstanding individuals. The entire group got a great deal of experience in their first outing, and downhill and slalom skiers look as strong as the 1949-50 squad."

Faurot spoke particularly of Norma Bell of Kalispell, still not actually enrolled, and Pat Hayes, promising specialist in downhill and slalom runs, and a member of the 1949-50 team. Both turned in creditable times of 1:11.8 seconds and 1:07.8, respectively, in the slalom course.

Cliff Wordal, Missoula junior, produced the fastest time recorded at Big Mountain over the weekend when he made his run in 1:12.5 and followed this with a good 1:01 in the tricky slalom course.

Dick Solberg with a 1:09.2 was runner-up to Wordal in the slalom trials while Lewis Penwell, Billings senior, was a strong finisher in the downhill event. His time was only six-tenths of a second slower than that scored by Wordal. All three are veterans of the 1949-50 club.

Although plagued by lack of finances, Faurot said conditions were favorable for a meet with Montana State college shortly after his six man squad is chosen Jan. 26. The Bobcat skiers, considerably more seasoned, have already seen active competition in meets with other schools.

A ski meet at Banff, British Columbia, and an inter-collegiate race to be held in early February are other events Faurot is attempting to schedule for his team. He also expressed hope that the skiers may enter the Pacific coast conference northern division meet at Emida, Idaho, later this year.

Reservations For Nite Club Dance Due by Saturday

Reservations for the Nite Club dance Saturday night must be made in advance, Dick Fletcher, Billings, has announced. Tickets may be purchased at the Student Union during the remainder of the week.

"It is best to make reservation in groups if possible because the seating will be cabaret style," Fletcher said. Proceeds from the dance will go to the Music School foundation fund. The dance will be from 9 to 12 in the Gold room.

The theme of this year's music school dance will be "Crime." Last year students who attended will remember the show theme of plantation days. Professor John Lester will direct the show which will feature some original music, Fletcher said.

Train Still Snowbound In California Mountains

BY UNITED PRESS

A story 105 years old is being repeated—at least in part—high in the Sierra mountains of California.

In the winter of 1847, a little band of 81 pioneers in the "Donner wagon train" became snowbound. According to legend the cold "fit your face like a death mask." Food ran out, and the pioneers killed the pack animals for meat. Only 45—a little more than half—survived. And they named the notch in the mountains "Donner Summit" after the pioneers' ordeal.

This evening, on Donner Summit, another band of travelers is snowbound . . . has been for 48 hours. Instead of covered wagons, their train is a streamliner, "The City of San Francisco." The train is half-buried in 14-foot snowdrifts . . . its powerful diesel engines still. The more than 200 persons aboard are huddled together without heat, without light and with little food.

To add to the peril, fumes made some passengers ill. Four persons removed from the train to a nearby lodge say some still aboard are "in bad condition." The fumes came from a butane gas supply used to provide some heat. They say "medical aid is needed."

A railroad snowplow is churning through the drifts . . . at last report, only 12 miles away. Behind it is a special train carrying rescue crews and snow tractors loaded with food and medical supplies.

Rescuers on skis and dog sleds already have reached the train, and an army rescue team on a snow weasel has battled its way through the snow with oxygen and medical supplies.

Gifts to Museum Include Clock, Indian Pictures

An antique black walnut clock and three Indian pictures are new additions to the University museum in the journalism building. They are gifts of R. H. McKay of Missoula.

The four-foot high clock, made in 1876, was given to McKay by the late F. S. Lusk who was president of the First National bank here. The clock is unusual not only because of its age and size but also because it records the month, date, and day of the week.

Two of the Indian pictures are artistic photographs and the third is a copy of an oil painting, "The Scouts," by E. S. Paxson. The photograph entitled "Kootenai Canoe" was taken on the Kootenai river in northern Idaho. The other shows an Indian woman digging bitterroots near Fort Missoula.

A Salish or Flathead Indian cradle that is estimated to be from 150 to 200 years old was also recently acquired for the museum from the Finley family for whom Finley creek is named. Mrs. Mary E. Ferguson, assistant museum director, said the bead work is exceptionally fine. The cradle which is shaped like a bag differs from most Indian cradles which are attached to boards.

Army Announces Plans For Calling ROTC Students

The army announced today its plan for ordering ROTC students into active service this year. ROTC students who will be commissioned in the U. S. Army Reserve during the spring and summer of 1952 are being notified of the plan now so they may act accordingly.

All students who are commissioned in the reserves and are now being deferred because of ROTC deferment agreements will be called sometime this summer. This also includes veterans now in ROTC with previous service of less than two years from Dec. 7, 1941 to Sept. 2, 1945. Veterans having in excess of two years service will not be called.

The purpose of the advanced notice is to allow students to select the month they wish to enter active duty between the months of June and September.

Requests will be granted if one third of the officers of each branch are on active duty by July 31, two thirds by Aug. 31, and the remaining third by Sept. 30.

Newly commissioned officers will go directly to appropriate branch schools for a three month training period.

Those students who will complete the advanced ROTC course, but who do not have the necessary academic requirements for a baccalaureate degree, will not be ordered to active duty until after graduation.

Doris Fleeson Will Speak at Matrix Table

Doris Fleeson, Washington correspondent, will be the speaker for the 1952 Matrix Table Thursday, Jan. 24, at 6:30 p.m., in the Hotel Florence.

Matrix Table, a formal invitational dinner, is sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary society for women in journalism. Women active in the community, all women journalism majors and women who have shown exceptional leadership in scholarship and activities on the campus are invited. Almost 400 women attended the banquet last year.

Was Washington Correspondent

Miss Fleeson, a Kansan by birth and a graduate of the University of Kansas, got her first newspaper job on the Evanston (Ill.) News-Index and then moved east. As political reporter and Washington correspondent for the New York Daily News from 1927 to 1942 she covered all of the Seabury investigations and "grew up with the Roosevelt administration," while covering the White House news.

Was Overseas During War Years

She became the first war correspondent for the Woman's Home Companion during 1942 to 1944, writing news from North Africa, Italy, England and France. Since 1945 she has been Washington correspondent for the Bell syndicate, writing for such papers as the Washington Star, Boston Globe, Kansas City Star, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Chicago Daily News, and the Portland Oregonian.

She has twice been awarded the New York Newspaperwoman's club award for distinguished reporting. Time magazine July 9, 1951, named Miss Fleeson "one of the 12 best Washington newspaper reporters."

Outstanding coeds will be honored along with recognition of several local women for their activities in various fields. The Theta Sigma Phi annual scholarship will be awarded.

Sentinel Picture Deadline Extended For Slow Seniors

Juniors should have their pictures taken this week for the Sentinel. Seniors who missed having their pictures taken last week have until Saturday, Jan. 19.

Foresters with beards may wait until after the Forester's ball to have their pictures taken. Women should wear white blouses and men should wear ties and suits or sport coats.

Anderson's, Catlin's, Haugen's, and the McKay Art company are the four studios where pictures may be taken.

Ball Tickets Go On Sale January 21

Tickets will go on sale Monday, Jan. 21, for the annual Forester's ball, according to Chief Push Don Cullen, Winamoe, Ind. The price per couple is $3, including tax.

"We have received some comment in years past from groups on the campus," Cullen said, "who like to attend the ball en masse. They have asked that we make some provision in the ticket sales which would allow all the men of one living group, for instance, to buy their tickets at one time."

Block Ticket Sales Proposed

Accordingly, the idea of block ticket sales has been proposed and will be tried this year. A limited number of tickets for the Friday dance will be reserved for groups who wish to purchase tickets in this way.

"Group tickets will be held until Monday noon. If a representative of the group reserving the tickets does not show up in the Forestry building by that time to claim the tickets, they will be placed in the ticket room for general sales," Cullen said.

Should Appoint Representative

"Groups who wish to reserve tickets are urged to appoint a representative who will list all the names alphabetically and turn the list in to the secretary in the forestry school office," Cullen said. Then the representative must show up with cash in hand by noon Monday for the tickets reserved.

"It will be necessary for us to have all the reservation lists in by Friday noon. All groups are urged to sign their members up as soon as possible and get their list in," said Cullen.

No reservations will be taken for Saturday night.

RADIO GUILD TO MEET

MSU Radio Guild will meet tonight at 8 in Main hall auditorium, according to Ross Hagen, Glendive, president.

Plans for this quarter's work will be outlined. All members and anyone interested in radio work should attend.

SUGGESTS GRIPE BOARD

Dear Editor:

I would like to comment on Mr. Johnson's letter in Tuesday's Kaimin. There is, no doubt, some valid reason for the delay in book purchases which created the unfortunate delay in securing the necessary text books for the quarter's work. However, I dispute the tone of Mr. Johnson's criticism.

I should think that the "bookless student" would be reasonably proud of the fact that the students of MSU are capable of operating a book store and a campus paper. But I do believe that Mr. Johnson has overlooked the fact that along side of the student-operated facilities there are several committees and organizations which try to handle problems such as the one sarcastically outlined in Tuesday's paper.

I call this student's attention, and any others with major pains, to the fact that there is a committee known as "Gripe Board," which is made up of all the class officers on the campus. They will gladly receive any valid criticism of student government, curriculum, faculty, or any other problem which student opinion can be of assistance. This committee meets regularly, and time and place can be learned by consulting the Student Union schedule which is regularly published in the student-operated paper.

So again, we invite all students to let us know of your gripes, and we shall make an honest attempt to see that they receive the attention of the proper functioning department. Shall we see you soon, Mr. Johnson?

Bob Smith, chairman
Gripe Board.

A QUESTION OF LOGIC?

Dear Editor:

As a visitor from abroad, I have no intention to interfere in American politics. However, I feel tempted to ask the critics of your editorial on Senator McCarthy's invitation to Cut Bank a question of logic.

If the people of Cut Bank want to form their own opinion on what Senator McCarthy has to say—O.K. But wouldn't it be only logical then to invite, at the same time, somebody who could present the other side of the picture, e.g. Senator Margaret Chase Smith? Is there freedom of speech only for representatives of one viewpoint?

Choir Plans Radio Hookup

The National Broadcasting company is tentatively planning to use a program of religious music by the a cappella choir during 'Lent week' on a nationwide hookup. William E. Spahr, radio programming director of the public service division, received this word yesterday from Harry Bubeck, NBC program manager for the western division.

Lloyd Oaklund, assistant professor of music, will begin work soon on preparing the choir for the program, according to Andrew Cogswell, director of the public service division.

Chumrau Corrects Interview Dates

Paul Chumrau of the Placement bureau wishes to correct the dates of the job interviews listed in yesterday's Kaimin.

Tom Menke of the Continental Oil company will be at the Placement bureau on Jan. 23 instead of today. He will interview winter quarter graduates for positions with the Continental Oil company.

Representatives of RCA Victor will be here Feb. 18 instead of next Monday. They will interview business administration graduates prepared in accounting, purchasing, personnel, and non-technical sales.

Former University Thespian Continues Work In Ireland

At least one 1951 MSU graduate has already gone far—clear to Dublin, Ireland. She is Mrs. Carroll O'Connor, formerly Nancy Fields, who majored in drama and fine arts here.

Mrs. O'Connor is participating in drama and fine arts activities in Dublin where this year she painted the sets for the famous Abbey company's Christmas pantomime.

Last August Mrs. O'Connor went to Ireland to be married to Carroll O'Connor ex-'52, who is studying at the University of Dublin. They met at MSU where they both were active in drama.

In Dublin they have found time to keep up their connection with the theatre through Mr. O'Connor's appearances with the Abbey players and Mrs. O'Connor's work on the sets. He is now directing "The Torch Bearers," the American contribution to the international play festival.

tribution to the international play festival.

Mrs. O'Connor was president of Masquers last year. She worked on about 20 major drama productions during her four college years. In addition to acting, she also worked on settings and costumes. She was stage manager for several plays and directed many one-act plays. Audiences saw her last year in the Masquer "Variety Show" which she also directed.

Hoop Squad Undergoes Stiff Drills in Preparation

With two conference losses and a non-conference win over the past week end, head basketball coach Jiggs Dahlberg began putting his Grizzly hoop squad through stiff drills yesterday afternoon, in preparation for their Skyline game with the Wyoming Cowboys Saturday.

After returning from Utah Dahlberg said that his first string squad played well, but because of the height of the Utah and BYU cagers the Grizzlies were at a disadvantage. He added that the lost of center Jack Luckman in the BYU game would seriously handicap the Silvertips in their test with the Cowboys this week end.

Jack Luckman, hustling Grizzly center, will not see action for at least two weeks, according to Grizzly trainer Naseby Rhinehart.

Five men from the freshman squad in order to give height to his second team. The play of the second squad was poor over the week end, he said, as lack of experience and height made the games runaways for Utah and BYU.

Dahlberg did not say who he would start in the Saturday game with Wyoming, but thought he would probably start Chuck Davis and Bob Sparks at forwards, and Hal Sherbeck and Ed Anderson at guards. To replace the injured Luckman he said he would probably start tall Dale Johnson in the center post.

Those brought up from the freshman squad by Dahlberg are Donald Sankus, a six foot, five inch center from Hoquiam, Wash. Sankus, who started school in the fall, but dropped out, has enrolled for winter quarter. He will see lots of action, Dahlberg said. Dahlberg will also bring up Frank Nickel, a six foot, three inch forward from Billings; George Samuelson, six feet, four inches, from Glendive; Dick Trinastich, six feet, four inches, from Great Falls, and Don Chaney, six feet, two inches, from Livingston.

Dahlberg said he did not know how long Luckman would be out, but added that if Luckman's severely sprained ankle responds to treatment he should be back in the lineup for the games with Montana State.

PEK Dumps APO Cagers

Phi Epsilon Kappa had little trouble in beating Alpha Phi Omega 73 to 23 in the first round of Intramural basketball play Monday night. Jack Scott, PEK forward, hit 30 points to put him in front in the race for total points.

In other Monday night games, the Sooners, led by Bob Stewart with 12 points, beat Mel's Rejects 45 to 20, and Phi Sigma Kappa edged by Theta Chi 40 to 35. Hill was high for the Phi Sigs with 15 markers. Berg and Beretta shared scoring honors for the losers with 10 each.

ATO Keglers Hold Lead

Alpha Tau Omega took three games from Phi Sigma Kappa Saturday and kept .056 percentage points ahead of the second-place Phi Deltas who beat Theta Chi three games.

The Law school held on to third place by taking two out of three from Corbin hall. South hall won two from SX, SN won two from the Bear Paws and SPE downed SAE twice.

John Smith, ATO, rolled a 214 game, a 210 and 168 for high individual game and the high individual series. ATO captured team honors with an 833 game and a 2,389 three-game series.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 32...THE YAK

"Some people will do anything for laughs!"

He's far too sophisticated to be amused by slap-stick comedy! From the minute the curtain went up, he knew that you just can't judge cigarette mildness by one fast puff or a single, swift sniff. Those capers may fool a frosh — but he's been around and he knows! From coast-to-coast, millions of smokers agree: There's but one true test of cigarette mildness!

It's the sensible test . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke, on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why . . .

Increase Expected In Employment Of Pharmacists

A moderate increase is expected over a long period in the employment of pharmacists in retail drug stores, according to the United States Department of Labor.

In view of the trend toward increasing drug sales and toward shorter working hours, many employers will probably hire additional pharmacists. The department also reports that a moderate increase in the number of drug stores can be expected, particularly in new residential areas.

Service Program

The number of pharmacist positions in the armed forces and in hospitals is expected to increase rapidly during the next few years. Opportunities will also increase in manufacturing and wholesaling, in public health services, teaching, law-enforcement, and pharmaceutical publications.

The Department of Labor roughly estimates that about 3,000 pharmacists will be needed yearly in the near future to replace those who die, retire, or transfer to other fields of work.

The sharp drop in graduations during War II and expanded employment needs created a shortage of registered personnel in many parts of the country in early 1950. An occupational handbook compiled by the Department of Labor reports that since World War II there has been a large increase in the enrollment of pharmacy schools.

Salaries Obtained

Pharmacists working for others usually earned about $80 a week in late 1949, according to reports from various parts of the country. Those in beginning positions with the federal government started at $3,825 a year, while chief pharmacists at larger installations had a base salary of $4,600 under the salary scale that went into effect in late 1949. In addition, "within-grade" salary increases are given periodically in these as in other federal jobs.

Fashion School Offers Fellowship

The Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers is offering to senior women graduating in 1952 three fashion fellowships in buying, styling advertising, and personnel, according to an announcement made today by Maurine Clow, associate dean of students.

The fellowships, valued at $950 each, covering full tuition for a one-year course, will be awarded this year in a nationwide contest among college seniors, Miss Clow said. This is the 14th competition conducted by the New York school.

Winners of the 1951 fellowship contest were graduates of Barnard College, the University of Utah, and the State College of Washington.

Registration blanks for the fashion fellowship competition may be obtained from Miss Clow's office or from the Fashion Fellowship Secretary, Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers, 851 Madison Avenue, New York 21, New York. Registration must be mailed before January 31, 1952.
